Miss Maud Kellar entertained a number of friends very pleasantly at her home on Topeka avenue, last evening.

Mrs. Pannick, who was so seriously hurt in a runaway some days ago, is slowly but surely recovering. The steady improvement in her condition is something of a surprise to her friends as her injuries were considered fatal.

The proposition for a new bridge meets with almost unanimous endorsement on this side. There is also a strong sentiment in favor of using the old one to connect Oakland with North Topeka. A proposition including both schemes would hardly receive a dissenting vote in the first ward.

The Epworth League of the Kansas Avenue M. E. church have elected the following officers for the ensuing year: President, Guy Houghton; first vice president, Mary Brown; second vice president, Ida Stanfield; third vice president, Miss Fenton; fourth vice president, Maud Allen; secretary, Bertha Starbird; treasurer, Grace Sheppard.

Kaw Valley lodge No. 20 A. O. U. W. held their semi-annual election of officers last night. The following members were chosen to fill the positions of trust for the next six months: Chris Kaser, M. TORE IT TO PIECES.

Anti-Lewelling Populists Savage at the Administration.

THEIR MEETING AN EXCITING ONE.

The Governor Denounced as a Perjuror and the Statement Made That Income from Disreputable Resorts is Used by His Administration as a Slush Fund.

Harmony is a very pretty word but it has no place in the Demo-Pop-jingo element or elements in Kansas this year—at least not now.

The meeting of the "anti-administration People's party league of Shawnee county," at the court house last night as it named itself, to "protest against machine politics, fusion deals and corrupt methods employed by the administration; to give ear to the voice of true Populism," was anything but frigid and formal and was at times so fiery that many of the participants were singed to a more or less extent.

The anti-administration movement grows out of the row in the Populist county convention last Saturday—ostensibly. In reality it seems to be the fresh opening of old sores that have been bothering certain members of the party of the people since the present governor came into power. The power now in—and which desires to stay in—has no hesitancy in charging that the fellows running the organized opposition to Lewelling are mad because they did not succeed in getting their abdominal proportions next to the pie counter.

The meeting last night was fraught with discontent. Ex-Congressman John G. Otis presided and Ed Corning was selected as secretary.

In taking the chair Mr. Otis said that as he understood it the meeting had been called to protest against machine politics and the corrupt methods of the present Populist administration generally, and to demand that prohibition and equal suffrage planks be put in the party platform. "I am not satisfied with the course of the Republican party nor the present administration in regard to these questions," said Mr. Otis. "If they have been cowardly enough to dodge it, it is no reason why we should. Our party should take high grounds on these great moral and vital issues." At this there was wild applause and W. H. Bennington was called to the floor according to programme.

"I do not propose to fall in line with any party," said he, "that does not represent me as a reformer and a Populist under the Omaha platform. There can be no question but that the present Populist administration under Gov. Lewelling has been catering to the saloons and slum elements of this state ever since its inauguration. This is breaking faith with the true Populist party and I repel it. If there is not a change I shall oppose the party and its nominee at the polls. The cowardly charge has been made that we are mad because we got no pie. I consider that assertion too contemptible to answer. I opposed the administration in its first acts and in its damnable endeavor to make Democrat John Martin United States senator. The man who says I did not is a contemptible cur. I did ask for an office, but although I was endorsed by the Populist party of the county, I didn't get it, but I don't care for that. There is no question that our administration by prearrangement with the slum and liquor and disorderly elements, is now under the direct control of the dives and joints and gamblers. It would take all night to unearthen all the crookedness of this administration. It has never failed to appoint Democrats where Populists should have been appointed, and I will make it my duty to oppose it to the end."

Mr. Bennington sat down amid applause, to make room on the floor for Cyrus Corning, whose cork was fast becoming inadequate to the retention of his wrath.

Mr. Corning has no lamp with which to guide his feet, but the lamp of experience, and in the matter of "reforms" his is of several hundred candle power. The audience floated patiently with Mr. Corning down the stream of time from the "state" war of the rebellion and followed his winding path through reform after reform and by defeat after defeat with a patient trust that wearied not but which did not begin to assert itself until he touched with feeling on the present situation. The first thing that attracted the speaker's particular wrath was the absence of Mr. Lease from the state during the last campaign.

"Mrs. Lease," roared the old man, "that grand exponent of liberty, was struck down because she was not in line with Democracy. No woman was allowed to speak because a fusion deal had been made with the Democrats and Democrats didn't like women speakers."

"At one time during that campaign it was suggested that Mrs. Anna Collins speak for the Populist at Fort Scott. I had the bills printed at my own expense and sent them to the chairman of the Populist central committee of Bourbon county, with a request that he distribute them. And what then? In a few days I received a letter saying that it would be impossible to allow Mrs. Collins to speak there. She would probably talk in favor of suffrage and prohibition and that would not please the Democrats, and she must not come. The letter was written and signed by a man now assistant in the office of that brilliant partisan Bank Commissioner Breidenbach."

The speaker's son afterward told a Journal reporter that the man referred to was M. A. Waterman.

Mr. Corning took drink of water and proceeded. "Mrs. Lease was driven from the state and taboed by her own party in the capital because she was not in touch with Democratic Chairman Jones. Immediately after his inauguration the governor went over to the Democrats, and he has been their willing tool ever since. He has had appointed Democratic police judges in the cities of the first class, and the result is that saloons, dives and gambling dens are running unrestricted even in the governor's own home, and the governor and his followers are reaping the benefits of it indirectly through the various channels that you all know, and it will be applied to the administration slush fund."

"Lewelling has done more to send the wave of sorrow over the state than all the administrations before him. You may search sheol all over and you will not find a man that would do meaner things than he has. This statement is by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Great Mob at Emporia.

McKeesport, Pa., June 7.—At 3:30 o'clock about 3,000 strikers, carrying pit lamps, left here for Duquesne, bent upon destruction. When the mob reached Duquesne it had increased to 6,000 strikers and sympathizers. With yells they attacked the Duquesne tube works, drove all the men at work out of the plant, drew the fires and ran the hot metal from the furnaces out on the floor.
